Which of these sugars is the building block for starch, cellulose, and glycogen?

A  Glucose.

B  Fructose.

C  Sucrose.
The three most common polysaccharides are all composed solely of glucose subunits.

Answer A.

Starr'C’03’02  2002-10-23