Which choice below best fits in the blank? Generally, gravity-sensing mechanisms are based on __ which are heavy or dense particles that shift position in response to changes in a cell’s orientation in space.

A  phytochromes

B  cytokinins

C  statoliths

D  chloroplasts
In plant cells, the statoliths are clusters of starch grains in modified plastids.

Answer C.

Starr’C’27’08  2002-10-23