Which choice below best fits in the blank? Phloem translocates organic compounds along gradients of decreasing pressure and solute concentrations—from a ___ region to a ___ region.

A  source
B  sink

The source of the flow is any region of the plant where organic compounds are being loaded into sieve tubes.

Answer A.